Happy First Anniversary to The El Salvador Cultural Association of Edmonton!

It's been a wonderful year for the association. In the past four years of being active in the community, my heart continues to feel joyful representing El Salvador in Edmonton. Born in Edmonton and raised by Salvadoran parents, I feel a deep sense of duty to help nurture the Canadian-Salvadoran generation and to help them feel proud of both sides of their heritage. From the cold -30 winters to the +30 summers, from poutine to pupusas, being Canadian-Salvadoran makes us the best of two worlds. Our parents and grandparents who came to Canada in the early '80s paved the way for us to experience the opportunities they couldn't have back home. With their hard work and sacrifice, their legacy lives within us. This is why the association was created to give back and honour them for everything they did to provide the next generation with a better quality of life and greater opportunities.

There is so much to be proud of in El Salvador and its people. Their strength, resiliency, faith, and determination have carried them from difficult times into a future full of hope. El Pulgarcito is small but mighty. This beautiful country is a reminder that tough times build strong people. With hope and steadfast courage, we continue moving forward. What bigger role model do you need? When you have El Salvador... ¡Qué orgullo! ¡Viva El Salvador!

Our mission is dedicated to preserving and promoting the rich cultural heritage of El Salvador. We aim to connect the new generation to their Salvadoran roots through educational programs, cultural activities, and community support.

As we welcome 2026, I want to thank everyone who believed in ESCA and those who saw the vision from the beginning. Without you, ESCA would not have started, and without the encouragement and financial support from the community throughout the year, ESCA wouldn't be here today. From the bottom of my heart, THANK YOU to our supporters and our volunteers!

2026 is going to be an amazing year filled with big events, and I look forward to growing our ESCA team!
